Campaign Proposal

The commercial and operational offer: scope, deliverables, team, paid media, pricing options, and terms.

Prepared for	[CLIENT NAME / FAMILY / MANAGEMENT TEAM]
Contestant	[CONTESTANT NAME]
Prepared by	[YOUR AGENCY NAME]
Date	[DD Month 2026]
Validity	15 days from date of issue
Campaign duration	Pre-entry phase + full season (~15 weeks)

1. Background & Opportunity

Bigg Boss Telugu is one of the most-watched reality properties in Andhra Pradesh and Telangana, airing on Star Maa with 24x7 and episode streaming on Jio Hotstar. Season 10 launches in September 2026, and contestant visibility during the first three weeks largely decides public perception for the rest of the season.

Once a contestant enters the house, they have no access to phones or the outside world. Every vote, trend, and fan community must be built and run from outside — by a coordinated professional team. This proposal outlines a full-season, outside-the-house campaign for [CONTESTANT NAME] designed to do two things:

- 1. Survive every elimination through a disciplined, high-volume public voting drive.
- 2. Build a durable public brand — follower base, narrative, and media presence — that holds commercial value after the show ends.

2. Campaign Objectives

Objective	How we measure it
Win weekly voting cycles	Unofficial poll standings on fan portals/YouTube polls, trend positions
Grow owned audience	Follower growth on Instagram, YouTube, Facebook, X (weekly delta)
Own the narrative	Share of positive vs. negative mentions; speed of counter-narrative response
Build fan infrastructure	Number of active WhatsApp/Telegram groups and district volunteer captains
Post-show value	Media coverage, inbound brand/casting enquiries during and after season

Note: Official vote counts are never published by the broadcaster. We track proxy indicators (unofficial polls, trends, engagement) and report them transparently as indicators, not confirmed results.

3. How the Show Shapes Our Calendar

The campaign runs on the show's fixed weekly rhythm:

- Nomination day (weekly): Voting window opens right after the nomination episode airs. This is our highest-intensity window each week.
- Voting methods: Jio Hotstar app vote + contestant-specific missed-call number announced on the show. Season 10 vote limits per method/day will be confirmed in Week 1 and reflected in all creatives.
- Weekend episodes (host episodes): Peak audience attention — used for trend campaigns and sentiment defense.
- Finale voting: Short, high-volume window requiring an all-hands push.

Implication for the client: our team works to the telecast clock, including late nights on nomination and weekend days. This is built into the plan and pricing.

4. Scope of Work

Phase 1 — Pre-Entry (2 weeks, before/around premiere)

Once the contestant enters the house, episode footage is our only new raw material. Everything that can be prepared in advance, will be.

- Brand kit for the contestant: positioning line, catchphrase, bio, key story beats ("origin story" the audience can root for)
- Asset bank: intro video, photoshoot edits, 30+ ready-to-publish creatives, reel templates
- Channel setup/optimization: Instagram, YouTube, Facebook page, X handle — handle consistency, bios, highlights
- Voting explainer kit: step-by-step Hotstar voting visual + missed-call number template (number inserted once announced on show)
- War-room setup: content calendar, approval workflow with family/management, monitoring dashboards
- Fan-club seeding: founding members, group structure, volunteer captain guidelines

Phase 2 — In-Season Weekly Operations (~15 weeks)

Content engine (daily)

- Live episode watching; highlight clips cut and published within 30–60 minutes of telecast
- 2–4 reels/shorts per day: hero moments, emotional beats, funny clips, catchphrase content
- Same-night response content for any negative narrative or controversy involving the contestant
- Weekend episode specials: recap edits, host-interaction moments

Voting drive (every nomination week)

- Voting CTA creatives deployed within 1 hour of nomination episode ending
- Missed-call number + Hotstar steps on every asset during the window
- Scheduled reminder blasts across all WhatsApp/Telegram groups through the window
- Influencer and fan-page amplification of the voting message

Trending operations (X/Twitter)

- Coordinated hashtag storms at fixed times (typically 6–8 PM) on nomination and weekend days
- Trend participation tracking and reporting

Community management

- District-wise WhatsApp/Telegram fan groups with volunteer captains
- Weekly fan engagement activities (polls, fan art features, watch-party prompts)
- Moderation guidelines to keep fan spaces positive and within platform rules

Sentiment & narrative management

- Daily monitoring of comments, fan portals, YouTube analysis channels, news coverage
- Counter-narrative briefs and response content within hours of negative spikes
- Weekly narrative review: what story is the audience seeing, and what do we reinforce next week

Phase 3 — Finale Push (final 2 weeks)

- All-hands voting drive with escalated posting frequency and reminder cadence
- Regional pride / hometown-angle creatives and ground-level activation coordination (with family)
- Optional paid amplification surge (DOOH, hoardings in hometown, metro/transit media) — see paid media section
- Finale-week daily reporting instead of weekly

Phase 4 — Post-Show Handover (2 weeks after exit)

- Exit interview / thank-you content series
- Handover of all channels, fan groups, asset library, and credential documentation
- Post-show brand roadmap: how the contestant converts the fan base into work (brand deals, appearances, casting)
- Final campaign report with full data

5. Deliverables Summary

Deliverable	Frequency
Reels / shorts / clips	2-4 per day (higher on weekend + nomination days)
Static creatives / posters	5-8 per week
Voting CTA creatives	Every nomination window, within 1 hour of episode end
X trend campaigns	2-3 per week (nomination + weekend days)
WhatsApp/Telegram broadcasts	Daily during voting windows; 3-4x weekly otherwise
Sentiment & narrative report	Weekly (daily in finale weeks)
Client report (metrics, polls, growth)	Weekly dashboard + call

6. Paid Media Plan (Client-Funded, We Manage)

Paid spend is billed at actuals and kept separate from the retainer. Recommended phased allocation:

Phase	Channels	Purpose
Weeks 1-3	Meta + YouTube (geo: AP/Telangana)	Establish face and story; build follower base fast

Phase	Channels	Purpose
Mid-season	Meta retargeting + fan-page collabs	Sustain voting behavior; reactivate casual viewers
Finale weeks	Meta/YouTube surge + optional DOOH (hometown hoardings, transit media)	Maximum voting volume in the decisive window

Indicative media budget range: ₹[X] – ₹[Y] for the season, adjustable to client appetite. All ad accounts remain in the client's ownership.

7. Team & Operating Model

Role	Responsibility
Campaign strategist (lead)	Narrative direction, weekly planning, client communication
Telugu content editor	Episode clipping, reels, same-night turnaround during telecast hours
Designer	Creatives, voting templates, thumbnails
Community manager	Fan groups, volunteer captains, broadcasts, moderation
Trend/pod coordinator	X hashtag storms, influencer and fan-page coordination

War-room hours: Coverage aligned to episode telecast + 2 hours, every show day. Nomination and weekend episodes get extended coverage.

Client-side requirement: One designated approver (family/management) reachable during telecast windows for sensitive content approvals. SLA: 15-minute approval turnaround during live windows.

8. KPIs & Reporting

Weekly dashboard covering:

- Follower growth and engagement rate per platform
- Video views and top-performing content
- Unofficial poll standings (fan portals, YouTube polls) — reported as indicators
- Hashtag trend achievements (position, duration)
- Fan community growth (groups, members, active captains)
- Sentiment split and notable narrative shifts
- Next week's plan and content angles

9. Commercials

All figures in INR, exclusive of GST. Paid media billed at actuals. (All numbers below are placeholders — finalize based on scope discussion.)

Option A — Core Support

For clients who want disciplined content + voting operations.

- Retainer: ₹[___]/week (~₹[___]/month)
- Includes: daily content (2/day), voting creatives, 2 trend campaigns/week, community management of up to 10 groups, weekly reporting
- Team: 3 people

Option B — Full War Room (Recommended)

Complete outside-the-house operation.

- Retainer: ₹[]/week (~₹[]/month)
- Includes: everything in A, plus 3-4 content pieces/day, same-night narrative defense, 3 trend campaigns/week, unlimited fan groups with captain program, influencer coordination, finale surge plan
- Team: 4-5 people with extended telecast-hours coverage

Option C — War Room + Post-Show Brand Building

Season campaign + 60 days of post-show monetization support.

- Retainer: ₹[]/week in-season + ₹[] fixed for 60-day post-show program
- Includes: everything in B, plus brand-deal outreach kit, media/PR coordination, post-show content strategy

Performance component (all options)

- Survival bonus: ₹[] for each week the contestant survives elimination, from Week [4] onwards
- Finale bonus: ₹[] if the contestant reaches the finale / ₹[] for title win

Payment terms

- 40% of first month as advance on signing; balance monthly in advance
- Pre-entry phase billed as a fixed one-time fee of ₹[]
- No refunds for mid-season elimination; in that event, the contract converts to the post-show handover phase (2 weeks) at no additional retainer

10. Terms & Compliance

1. No artificial voting or fake engagement. We do not purchase votes, run bot voting, or buy fake followers/engagement. This protects the contestant from disqualification risk and platform penalties. This is a firm policy, not a negotiable line item.
2. Content rights. Episode clips are used as short, transformative excerpts common to fan-media practice; accounts may occasionally face platform copyright actions, and we maintain backup distribution channels for continuity.
3. Approvals & liability. The client approves positioning and sensitive content. The client confirms they are authorized to act for the contestant and that the contestant's pre-entry commitments to the broadcaster permit outside campaigning (standard fan/family activity).
4. Show dependency. Schedule, voting rules, and season length are controlled by the broadcaster; plans adapt to official announcements, and material changes will be communicated within 24 hours.
5. Confidentiality. Campaign strategy, internal data, and group structures are confidential to both parties during and after the engagement.
6. Exclusions. On-ground events, travel, printing, and DOOH production are billed at actuals with prior approval.

11. Why [YOUR AGENCY NAME]

- Structured war-room operating model built around the telecast clock — not a generic social media retainer
- Telugu-first content capability with same-night turnaround
- Transparent, indicator-based reporting — we never promise confirmed vote counts, because no one legitimately can

- Automation-backed publishing and monitoring for speed and consistency

12. Next Steps

1. Alignment call: confirm scope option, budget bands, and approval contacts
2. Sign-off on this proposal + advance payment
3. Pre-entry sprint kickoff: asset bank, channels, and war-room live within [7] days

PART 2

Campaign Summary

The quick read — strategy on one page, the three engines, crisis approach, and the weekly scorecard.

Prepared for: [CLIENT NAME] | Contestant: [CONTESTANT NAME] | By: [AGENCY NAME] | Date: [DD Month 2026]

This is the summary version. The complete operating playbook accompanies this document.

The Campaign in One Line

Turn [CONTESTANT NAME] into the season's people's underdog — the contestant Telugu audiences feel personally responsible for protecting — and convert that emotion into organized, weekly voting through a WhatsApp-powered fan machine.

Why the Underdog Position

Bigg Boss audiences don't vote for the strongest contestant; they vote for the one they feel responsible for. The underdog narrative — overlooked, underestimated, tested, but never breaking — generates the two most valuable campaign assets: sympathy (which drives votes during nominations) and pride (which drives fan recruitment). Every clip, caption, and community message in this campaign reinforces one arc: they underestimated them — watch what happens next.

The Three Engines

1. Content Engine

Episode moments clipped and published within 30–60 minutes of telecast, framed through the underdog lens: quiet dignity, standing up when it counts, being targeted, earning respect. Speed beats polish — the first page to clip a moment owns the shares.

2. WhatsApp Community Engine (our core weapon)

Social media reach is rented; WhatsApp is owned. Broadcast messages in India see ~98% open rates — no algorithm between us and the voter. We build a structured fan organization:

- One official WhatsApp Channel as the public front door (unlimited followers)
- Region-wise Communities (Hyderabad, Vijayawada–Guntur, Vizag, Warangal, Tirupati, NRI/Global) — each holding up to 2,000 members across district groups
- Trained volunteer captains running each district group
- A proven voting-window protocol: instant nomination-night alerts with the missed-call number, timed reminders, "Reply VOTED" check-ins, and inter-district leaderboard competitions

Target: 10,000+ organized, reachable voters by the finale — people we can activate within 15 minutes of any voting window opening.

3. Trend & Social Proof Engine

Coordinated X hashtag storms on nomination and weekend days, unofficial poll tracking, and fan-page amplification — because visible momentum attracts neutral voters. Winning looks like winning.

Handling Negative PR

Attacks are expected — rival contestant teams running negative PR against threats is an established pattern in Bigg Boss. Our approach, in brief:

- Tiered response: Troll noise is starved (never fed); coordinated attacks are answered with full-context video evidence, not arguments; serious mainstream crises get a single calm official statement
- Underdog jiu-jitsu: real attacks are reframed as proof that "the powerful are against them" — converting hostility into sympathy and voting surges, without ever manufacturing fake victimhood
- Fan discipline: our communities follow a strict conduct code — no abusing rival contestants, no mass-reporting brigades — we flood with positivity and facts instead
- Speed with control: negative spikes answered within 2 hours, but nothing publishes during a crisis without the designated approver's sign-off

The full crisis protocol with scenario-by-scenario playbooks is in the playbook document.

Client Scorecard (reported weekly)

What you see	What it tells you
Follower growth & engagement per platform	Is the audience building?
Reel views & share of non-follower reach	Is the story spreading beyond existing fans?
WhatsApp communities: groups, members, active captains	Is the voting machine growing?
VOTED check-ins per voting window	Is the machine actually firing?
Unofficial poll standings & X trend positions	Are we winning the visible race?
Sentiment ratio & response times	Is the narrative healthy?
Survival, week over week	The result that matters

Official vote counts are never published by the broadcaster. We report poll standings and trends as directional indicators — honestly, never as confirmed numbers.

Season Phases

Phase	Focus
Pre-entry (2 weeks)	Asset bank, channels, community structure, underdog story lock
Weeks 1-3	Establish face and story; seed communities; first voting cycles
Weeks 4-10	Scale the machine; win polls consistently; manage rival-PR attacks
Weeks 11-finale	All-hands surge; maximum vote volume; "one of us" finale narrative

Phase	Focus
Post-exit (2 weeks)	Gratitude arc, handover of all channels and communities, brand roadmap

What We Need From You

- One designated approver reachable during telecast hours (15-minute SLA during live windows)
- Pre-entry access to the contestant for photoshoot, intro videos, and story interviews
- Timely approval of paid-media budgets (billed at actuals, your ad accounts)
- A single family spokesperson for any crisis statements — no uncoordinated family comments to media during the season

Full operational detail: see the accompanying document — "Campaign Playbook: Underdog Strategy, WhatsApp Engine & Crisis Protocol."

Complete Playbook

The full operating manual: underdog doctrine, the WhatsApp community engine, content ops, and the negative-PR crisis protocol.

Version: 1.0 | Prepared by: [AGENCY NAME] | Date: [DD Month 2026]

Companion document: Client Campaign Summary

PART 1 — CAMPAIGN DOCTRINE: THE UNDERDOG STRATEGY

1.1 Why underdog

Reality-show voting is emotional, not rational. Viewers vote to protect, not to reward. The underdog arc converts three powerful emotions into votes:

- Sympathy — when they're targeted, nominated, or dismissed → voting surges
- Pride — when they win small battles → fans recruit others
- Ownership — "we carried them" → the fan base becomes identity, not audience

Every content and community decision in this campaign is filtered through one question: does this strengthen the underdog arc?

1.2 Positioning canvas (fill in pre-entry)

Element	Definition	Ours
One-line story	The sentence a fan tells a friend	"[CONTESTANT] — [e.g., a small-town fighter the house underestimated]"
Wound	What life struggle makes them relatable	[family background / rejections / financial struggle]
Wound ≠ weakness	How they carry it	[never complains, works quietly]
Spark	The trait the house will underestimate	[calm courage / honesty / wit]
Enemy (narrative)	What they're up against — never a person, always a force	"politics," "groupism," "being ignored"
Proof moments	Episode beats that confirm the story	see 1.4
Catchphrase	3–6 words, repeatable, subtitle-ready	[TBD — test 3 options in week 1]
Primary hashtag	One, never changing	#[ContestantName]Army or #[Name]ForBB

1.3 The season story arc

Beat	Weeks	Story we're telling	Content priority
1. Who is this?	1	Origin story, humility, "new face among known faces"	Intro videos, family bytes, first-impression clips
2. Overlooked	1–2	The house doesn't see them yet	Quiet-work moments, being ignored in discussions
3. First stand	2–4	They finally speak — and land it	THE clip of the week; push to every channel
4. Tested	4–8	Ganged up on, nominated, betrayed — never breaks	Sympathy engine; highest voting-conversion window
5. Respect earned	6–10	Rivals acknowledge them; host praises them	Validation clips; "even they admit it" framing
6. The people's pick	9–13	Fans, ex-contestants, influencers rally	Fan-made content, endorsement reels, poll dominance

Beat	Weeks	Story we're telling	Content priority
7. One of us	14-15	Hometown pride; ordinary person, extraordinary journey	Journey video, family stories, regional pride surge

Beat 4 is the engine room of the season. An underdog who is never tested generates no surge. When tests come, we don't hide them — we frame them.

1.4 Moment-spotting guide (what to clip, every episode)

Clip immediately when the contestant:

- Works (cooking, cleaning, tasks) while others lounge or scheme
- Is interrupted, dismissed, or talked over — and stays composed
- Stands up for a weaker or isolated housemate
- Is nominated on visibly flimsy or group-driven grounds
- Shows vulnerability alone (tears, missing family) — handle with dignity, never mockery
- Is underestimated in a task, then performs
- Receives host acknowledgment or correction of others on weekend episodes
- Is the subject of group conversations when absent ("they're talking about them again")

Do NOT clip or amplify: genuine cruelty, body-shaming or personal attacks by anyone, moments where our contestant is clearly in the wrong (those go to the crisis protocol, Part 4).

1.5 Voice and language rules

- Telugu-first captions; English only as support. Write like a fan, not a brand
- We never insult other contestants. We contrast, we don't abuse
- Emotional beats get restraint — one strong line, not a paragraph
- Every voting-window asset ends with the same two CTAs: missed-call number + Hotstar steps
- Recurring signature sign-off/catchphrase on all community content to build familiarity

1.6 Hashtag bank

Use	Hashtag
Always-on	#[Name]Army (primary, never changes)
Voting windows	#VoteFor[Name] + show tag #BiggBossTelugu10
Trend storms	Weekly rotating phrase tied to that week's story beat (decided in Monday war-room)
Crisis counter	Declared per-incident by strategist only — never improvised by fans

PART 2 — THE WHATSAPP COMMUNITY ENGINE

This is the campaign's core weapon. Social reach is rented and algorithm-dependent; WhatsApp is direct, with ~98% broadcast open rates and 45-60% link click-through in India. Our goal: an organized voter base we can activate within 15 minutes of any voting window opening.

2.1 Platform mechanics (the math we design around)

Tool	Limit	Behavior	Our use
WhatsApp Channel	No follower cap	One-way broadcast; followers can't reply; no number-saving needed	Public front door — link in every bio, creative, and QR code
Community	2,000 members total, up to 100 sub-groups	Auto-created Announcement group reaches all 2,000	One Community per region
Group	1,024 members	Two-way; all numbers visible	District/neighborhood groups inside each Community
Broadcast list	256 contacts; recipient must have saved our number	Private delivery	Core team + captain coordination only

Design consequences: we scale by adding Communities (not by overstuffing one), the Channel is our only unlimited-reach surface, and captains must be saved-contact with the ops number for broadcast coordination.

2.2 Target architecture

WHATSAPP CHANNEL (public, unlimited) <- link in all bios, creatives, QR codes
  v "Join your district group" pinned message
REGIONAL COMMUNITIES (2,000 members each)
|-- Community 1: Hyderabad
|-- Community 2: Vijayawada-Guntur
|-- Community 3: Vizag-Uttarandhra
|-- Community 4: Warangal-Karimnagar-Nizamabad
|-- Community 5: Rayalaseema-Tirupati
|-- Community 6: NRI / Global Telugu
  v each Community contains
DISTRICT GROUPS (fan conversation + voting coordination)
  v
CORE OPS LAYER (broadcast lists, 256/contact cap)
|-- Ops team + client approver
|-- Captains Circle (all district captains)

Season targets: Channel 25,000 followers → 6 Communities at 80% fill ≈ 9,500 organized members → 60+ active district captains by finale.

2.3 Roles

Role	Who	Job
Community head	Agency	Owns architecture, broadcasts, metrics, captain program
Group admins (agency)	2 agency members	Create groups, enforce rules, seed daily content

Role	Who	Job
District captains	Volunteers (recruited week 2-4)	Run district groups, execute voting protocol, report counts
Content feeder	Agency editor	Drops daily content kit into Captains Circle for onward sharing

Captain selection criteria: active 7+ days, Telugu-fluent, non-abusive history, has 30+ min/day. Captains get recognition (name on weekly leaderboard, first access to creatives) — never payment, to avoid paid-fan controversies.

2.4 Member journey

1. Discover — clicks Channel link from reel bio, comment, QR code, or a friend's forward
2. Join — follows Channel; pinned message routes them to their regional Community
3. Welcome — auto welcome kit (see 2.5) within minutes of joining a group
4. Activate — completes first vote and replies VOTED in their group
5. Habit — daily content card + episode-night clips keep the group alive
6. Advocate — recruits 3 people (friends/family); top recruiters recognized weekly

2.5 Welcome kit (pinned in every group)

- Welcome message in Telugu (warm, fan-voice, underdog framing)
- [CONTESTANT] 60-second intro video
- Voting guide card: Hotstar steps graphic + missed-call number (number inserted once announced on the show; card re-issued if rules change)
- Group rules (one screen, see 2.9)
- "Add 3 friends who support [Name]" nudge

2.6 Weekly rhythm inside communities

Day	Community activity
Daily	Morning card (contestant quote/moment + branding); episode-night clip drop within 60 min of telecast
Nomination night	Voting protocol fires (see 2.7)
Mid-week	Poll/quiz ("Which moment this week?"), fan-art features, watch-party prompts for weekend episodes
Weekend	Live-episode prompts; host-moment clips; gratitude message to active members
Sunday	Captain leaderboard published; weekly poll standing shared as motivation

2.7 Voting window protocol (the money process)

Window opens at the end of the nomination episode. Clock starts:

- T+0 min — Community head posts to all Community Announcement groups + Channel: "[Name] is nominated. Voting is OPEN. Missed call: [number]. Hotstar: 4 steps" + voting card creative
- T+10 min — Captains Circle broadcast fires; captains forward to every district group
- T+60 min — First check-in: "Voted? Reply VOTED ✓" in all groups; captains tally replies
- Next morning 8 AM — Morning card doubles as voting reminder

- Daily during window — Two reminders: 1 PM and 7–9 PM prime time. Never more than two; spam burns trust
- Final 4 hours of window — Countdown creatives hourly ("3 hours left to protect [Name]")
- Window close — Thank-you message + unofficial poll standing shared; leaderboard updated

Rules: every message carries both voting methods; we never claim to know results; we never instruct anyone to violate per-person vote limits — we push more people voting, not fake volume.

2.8 Growth tactics

- QR code (Channel link) on every creative; printable poster version for local shops, colleges, coaching centers in the contestant's home district
- "Bring 3" recruitment pushes with weekly recognition
- YouTube/Facebook comment mining: reply to pro-contestant comments with the Channel link
- Cross-posts in Telugu movie/fan pages (within those communities' rules)
- Family-side networks: relatives and friends each onboard their own circles into the right district groups
- After every strong episode: 24-hour recruitment surge while emotion is high

2.9 Conduct code (pinned, enforced)

1. Support [Name] with pride — abuse of any contestant, fan, or community = removal
2. No caste, religion, region, gender, or body-shaming content — zero tolerance
3. No fake-vote schemes, SIM tricks, or paid-vote offers — report anyone offering them
4. Don't spread unverified claims about other contestants
5. Forward only what comes from the official Channel or captains

Enforcement: one warning, then removal. Captains report violations to group admins. Our public reputation is part of the contestant's image — a toxic fandom damages the underdog story.

2.10 Hygiene, compliance, and anti-ban practices

- Dedicated devices and numbers for community ops; never mix family/personal numbers
- All joining is opt-in via links/QR — we never add numbers without consent (protects against bans and privacy complaints)
- Broadcast/API sending follows WhatsApp's tiered messaging limits; warm up new numbers gradually; stagger sends; avoid flagged link shorteners
- Diversify surfaces: if any number is restricted, Channel + Communities keep running
- Member phone numbers are visible inside groups — publish a simple privacy note in the welcome kit and never export member lists for any other use
- Keep message frequency disciplined (2.6/2.7 cadence) — over-messaging drives mutes and exits

2.11 Community metrics (weekly)

- Channel followers; Communities/groups live; total organized members
- New joins per day (spike analysis vs. episode moments)
- VOTED replies per window, per district (the activation KPI)
- Active captains; captain response time on protocol nights
- Mutes/exits after broadcasts (spam early-warning)

PART 3 — CONTENT ENGINE (OPERATING SUMMARY)

- Live episode watch every show night; clip shortlist built in real time
 - Priority queue: underdog moments (1.4) → humor/warmth → task performance → house context
 - Publish within 30-60 minutes: Instagram Reels, YouTube Shorts, Facebook; community drop via captains
 - 2-4 pieces/day standard; surge on nomination/weekend days
 - Caption frames: dignity ("never raised his voice, never backed down"), contrast ("they laughed at the beginning of the task..."), protection ("they need us this week")
 - Weekly content retro: top 5 clips by non-follower reach → double down on what's working

PART 4 — NEGATIVE PR & CRISIS PROTOCOL

4.1 Threat map — where attacks come from

Source	Examples	Likelihood
Rival contestant PR teams	Paid negative trends, defaming narratives planted with fan pages — an established Bigg Boss pattern against rising contestants	High, from week 3-4 once we're a threat
Rival fandoms	Abusive trends, clipped-out-of-context videos, mass reporting our pages	High
The show's edit	"Villain edit" or reduced screen time in a given week	Medium
Host weekend feedback	On-air criticism of the contestant's behavior	Medium
Dug-up history	Old posts, old relationships, past statements resurfaced	Medium — audit pre-entry
Family missteps	Unguarded media comments by relatives	Medium — controlled via single-spokesperson rule
Fabrications	Fake screenshots, morphed clips, false quotes	Low-medium, high damage

Pre-entry actions: full social-media history audit of the contestant and close family; prepare context notes for anything findable; brief family on the single-spokesperson rule in writing.

4.2 Monitoring (daily)

- Morning + post-episode scans: X trends, Instagram/YouTube mentions, top fan pages, Telugu entertainment YouTube analysis channels, Google News for contestant name
- Keyword watchlist: name variants, common misspellings, ship names, house rival pairings
- Sentiment logged daily (positive/negative/neutral) — a 2x negative spike vs. 7-day average triggers assessment within 30 minutes

4.3 Severity tiers and response matrix

Tier	Definition	Examples	Response	Approval
T1 — Noise	Scattered trolling, low-reach negativity	Abusive comments, small hate pages	Starve it. No replies, no quotes. Block/report per platform rules. Document only	Community manager
T2 — Coordinated	Organized campaign gaining reach	Negative hashtag trending, viral out-of-context clip, rival PR narrative in fan pages	Counter with evidence: full-context clip within 2 hours; positive trend flood same evening; fact-post from official handles; captains brief communities with the true context	Strategist + client approver

Tier	Definition	Examples	Response	Approval
T3 — Crisis	Mainstream or moral stakes	News-portal coverage, serious allegation, family controversy, show disciplinary action	Single official statement (templates in 4.6); all other handles go silent on the topic; legal review before publishing; communities told to hold line, not argue	Client + legal + strategist

Golden rules:

1. Never argue from the official handle in emotion — we publish evidence and calm statements only
2. Video beats text: the full-context clip is our strongest weapon against the out-of-context clip
3. Response speed target: T2 within 2 hours; T3 statement within 4 hours, never rushed past legal
4. During voting windows, every counter-post still ends with the voting CTA — never let a crisis crowd out the vote
5. One narrative, all surfaces: whatever the official line is, captains repeat it verbatim in communities

4.4 Underdog jiu-jitsu — converting attacks into fuel

When a real attack lands, the underdog frame turns it into an asset:

- Reframe: "This is what they're up against — and they're still standing." Attacks become proof of the story, not damage to it
- Mobilize, don't agonize: channel fan anger into voting and positive trends ("They're scared of [Name]. Answer with your vote.")
- Sympathy surge: nomination + attack in the same week is our highest-conversion moment — run the voting protocol at full intensity and let emotion do the work
- Hard limit: we only reframe real events. We never invent victimhood, stage fake attacks, or crop evidence. One exposed fabrication destroys the underdog story permanently — trust is the whole campaign.

4.5 Scenario playbooks

Villain edit week. Publish the full-context clips the episode cut around; seed "watch the 24x7 footage" framing; pair with a dignity-moment reel. Do not attack the broadcaster — we need them. If it persists 2 weeks, request (via family) any available channel of audience-feedback to the show, and lean harder on community + Channel where the edit can't reach.

House fight where our contestant is partly at fault. No denial. Publish the full sequence, acknowledge humanity ("emotions run high in that house"), pivot within 24h to a positive moment. Never justify abuse, slurs, or violence — if the contestant crosses a line, the play is silence + dignity content, not defense.

Host criticism on weekend episode. Respect and acceptance framing: "[Name] will take the host's words and come back stronger." Audiences reward humility after a rebuke; defensiveness after a rebuke is how underdogs become villains.

Dug-up history (old posts/relationships). Pre-prepared context note (4.1) goes out once, calmly. Then starve. If it involves another person who speaks publicly, route through client + legal before any reply.

Family controversy. Single-spokesperson rule activates; one clarifying statement; family members give no further comments; communities instructed to redirect all discussion to voting.

Fake screenshots / morphed clips. Post the original/real evidence side-by-side, once, factually. Report to platform. Brief captains with the debunk graphic so fans can reply with it instead of arguing.

Fan war escalation. Our side never escalates: no counter-abuse, no mass-reporting brigades, no trending against rival contestants. We flood our own positive trend and let contrast make the point — a dignified fandom beside an abusive one is itself campaign content.

PR/money drama aimed at the campaign (e.g., claims about unpaid promoters). Keep all vendor and volunteer relationships documented from day one; captains are volunteers by design. If claims surface, respond with documents, once, through the client.

4.6 Holding statement templates (pre-approved by client + legal)

T2 out-of-context clip:

"A 20-second clip is being circulated from a 40-minute conversation. Here is the full sequence: [link]. Watch it, and decide for yourself. [Name] has always stood for [positioning value]. #VoteFor[Name]"

T3 allegation:

"We are aware of the claims circulating about [Name]. They are [false / missing context]. [One factual sentence only.] [Name] is inside the Bigg Boss house and cannot respond personally; we ask everyone to avoid spreading unverified content. Our focus remains the show and your support."

Family spokesperson line (for any media call):

"[Name] is playing with honesty and heart. We request everyone to watch the full episodes and support with their vote. We won't be commenting on house politics."

4.7 Post-crisis repair

48 hours after any T2/T3: gratitude content (fans, family, journey), resume normal cadence, log the incident (trigger, spread, what worked) into a running crisis register reviewed weekly.

PART 5 — TREND & INFLUENCER OPS (SUMMARY)

- X trend storms at fixed windows (6–8 PM) on nomination and weekend days; hashtag declared by strategist in Monday war-room
 - Unofficial polls: track 5–6 major fan portals/YouTube community polls every Sunday; log standings as trend line
 - Influencer layer: Telugu meme pages, movie-update pages, micro YouTube analysts; judge on engagement quality, not follower count; all paid arrangements documented
 - Ex-contestant and celebrity support: coordinate through client/family relationships; amplify every endorsement within the hour

PART 6 — KPIs & REPORTING

Client scorecard (weekly)

Reach (views, non-follower %), audience growth, engagement rate vs. India tier benchmarks (nano 4-8%, micro >2.5%), community growth (groups/members/captains), VOTED replies per window, poll standings + trend positions, sentiment ratio, survival.

Internal dashboard (adds)

Clip speed (telecast → publish minutes), per-content performance by story beat, community funnel conversion (Channel → Community → VOTED), captain activity scores, crisis log, mute/exit rates.

Targets recap: 4-8% ER at nano tier holding >2.5% through micro; >85% broadcast open proxy; top-3 poll standing by week 4, top 1-2 by finale; T2 response <2 hours.

PART 7 — CADENCE & TEAM

Ritual	When	Owner
War-room planning + hashtag call	Monday 11 AM	Strategist
Live episode coverage	Daily, telecast +2 hrs	Editor + community manager
Voting protocol	Every nomination window	Community head
Captain sync (voice note/broadcast)	Sunday	Community head
Client report + call	Monday evening	Strategist
Crisis drill (first month)	Once, week 2	Full team

Team: strategist, Telugu editor, designer, community manager, trend coordinator. Client-side: one approver (15-min SLA in live windows), one family spokesperson.

PART 8 — COMPLIANCE SUMMARY

No fake votes, bots, or purchased engagement — ever. Episode clips kept short and transformative. All joining opt-in; member data never exported. Paid influencer relationships documented. Broadcaster rules (voting limits, windows) verified week 1 and re-verified on any official announcement. The contestant's and campaign's reputation is the product — we protect it even when attacking would be easier.
